

Gavin with Boy Scouts after doing river clean-up as part of River's Alive.

Gavin MacDonald: Spiritual Journey of Ministry and Giving

My name is Gavin MacDonald and have been attending St. Bart's with my wife Mary since 1988. We were expecting a child at the time and wanted a parish home. St. Bart's is closest to our neighborhood, so we visited. We felt very welcome here, so we stayed these 30 years. We began pledging right away. I believe pledging is critical to the survival and growth of St. Bart's. We have enjoyed being members of St. Bart's with its wonderful clergy, staff and congregation. Our son, Ian, was nourished and flourished in the St. Bart's "village".

Pledging and volunteering are important and rewarding. I volunteer by ushering, cleaning dishes, helping out on grounds clean-up days, serving on the Guild of Ten Talents, and serving as Charter Organization Representative to Boy Scout Troop 103 (our relatively new-to-us scout troop). I believe that it takes the effort of all members to make St. Bart's function as a welcoming and outgoing community. Small acts by many people can add up to large accomplishments.

Gavin with Boy Scouts after doing river clean-up as part of River's Alive.

Gavin MacDonald: Spiritual Journey of Ministry and Giving

My name is Gavin MacDonald and have been attending St. Bart's with my wife Mary since 1988. We were expecting a child at the time and wanted a parish home. St. Bart's is closest to our neighborhood, so we visited. We felt very welcome here, so we stayed these 30 years. We began pledging right away. I believe pledging is critical to the survival and growth of St. Bart's. We have enjoyed being members of St. Bart's with its wonderful clergy, staff and congregation. Our son, Ian, was nourished and flourished in the St. Bart's "village".

Pledging and volunteering are important and rewarding. I volunteer by ushering, cleaning dishes, helping out on grounds clean-up days, serving on the Guild of Ten Talents, and serving as Charter Organization Representative to Boy Scout Troop 103 (our relatively new-to-us scout troop). I believe that it takes the effort of all members to make St. Bart's function as a welcoming and outgoing community. Small acts by many people can add up to large accomplishments.